

Raymond J. Buechler has held the positions of Systems Coordinator, and Reporting Systems & Applications Manager since 2001. He previously held positions at Work.com, NetSanity, and AOL. He received a B.S. degree in Anthropology from Indiana State University in 1990.

Education

- Bachelor of Science, Anthropology
Indiana State University

Professional Interests

- Member, Indiana Association for Institutional Research (INAIR)

Position Specifications

- Technical project manager for the TaskStream Accountability Management System which is used to track the progress of ISU's strategic plan
 - Conduct TaskStream training sessions for Strategic Plan Goal Chairs and for Initiative Team Chairs
- Evaluates the technology needs of the office and recommends technology purchases and upgrades
- Maintain the IR website
- Administrator for the internal IR database
- Design and develop internal and external online (web) surveys and applications
 - IR Work Request form
 - IR Work Request Admin site
 - Faculty Effort
- Campus Coordinator for the Digital Measures faculty activity database
- Technical Administrator for MAP-Works
 - Serve on the MAP-Works Steering Committee
- iStrategy Team Member
 - Conduct user training for new users
 - Develop Dashboards

E-mail Ray at Ray.Buechler@indstate.edu