Research and Scholarship

What is your assessment of accomplishments in the area of research and scholarship that is focused primarily on contributions to practice and discipline-based scholarship? Are you satisfied overall? In which areas do you feel your department does particularly well? In which areas do you feel your department needs to improve?

The finance faculty continued to be the most active group in the area of research and scholarship. The finance program average publication in 2005 is 1.75 refereed journal article per faculty. All finance faculty has also presented at their research national conferences. Most of the finance program research appeared in discipline-based journals and some appeared in educational and applied research journals.

Teaching

We would like to highlight innovative approaches to teaching. Has your department developed any pedagogies or practices you'd like to share with us? Please describe briefly.

Two of the finance faculty has developed and revised finance courses to integrate the trading floor experiential learning in the finance curriculum.
