

Indiana State University
Community Engagement Activities
Department Annual Report
2006

Project Name:

POPS

Description

Parents of Prospective Students is a group of ISU employees who help other employees with dependent children learn about ISU educational opportunities, majors, admissions and financial aid. This group was designed to promote awareness for employees while promoting the benefits of an ISU education.

How do you see community engagement activities fitting in with your department in the future?

Some of these prospective students will tell their friends in high school about ISU. It is an indirect way to get ISU awareness into high schools.

What do you feel has been the impact of the project?

We have several dependent children of ISU employees who have committed to attending ISU.

Faculty involved with students in this project outside of class

Several Colleges set up sessions for a POPS day for prospective students to visit campus.

Who from the community is involved?

High school students from various local schools.

Who from ISU is involved?

ISU Employee Assistance Program, Support Staff Council, Admissions, Student Financial Aid, and other academic programs.

Number of Students	Where it takes/took place	Is this activity ongoing
<50	ISU campus	Yes